

"Lou Rawls Parade of Stars" Telethon Will Benefit UNCF

MILDRED L. CHAVOUS
...viewing party effort

Lou Rawls and Millie Chavous will be joining forces, via the magic of television, to provide Columbusites an opportunity to celebrate the Fourth of July in a safe, economical, and charitable way.

Rawls is the star and host of "The Lou Rawls Parade of Stars," a three-hour fundraiser telethon for the benefit of the United Negro College Fund (UNCF). The Budweiser-sponsored variety special will be seen locally July 5, 9-12 p.m., on WTVN-TV, Channel 6.

Ms. Chavous is in charge of coordinating home viewing parties in connection with the TV spectacular. Under her direction, local residents are being recruited to host parties in their homes during the showing of "The Lou Rawls Parade of Stars."

Prospective hosts and hostesses are being asked to invite a minimum of 15 persons, each of whom is expected to donate a minimum of $15 to UNCF.

"The 15/15 formula is a rule of thumb, not an absolute requirement," Chavous said. "Party-givers are urged to invite as many folks as they can accommodate and donors are asked to give whatever they can afford. We hope that participants will use the 15/15 formula as a guide, but we don't want to discourage anyone from participating," she said.

Chavous also emphasized that persons who are unable to participate in the home viewing parties program should not be discouraged from contributing to UNCF. "The direct recipients of the benefits from UNCF are the members of the black community, and we want the black community to support the Fund. As the saying goes, 'The Lord helps those who help themselves'."

The host or hostess of the best party nationwide, will receive an expense-paid trip to Las Vegas in October to participate in the taping of the 1981 telethon.

A roving camera crew will visit several of the parties for on-the-scene reports to be telecast during the local original portions of the telethon.

Through the courtesy of Anheuser-Busch, sponsors of the telethon, each party host will receive a viewing party kit containing Budweiser table cloths, T-shirt coupons, souvenir buttons, decorative streamers, balloons, invitations, UNCF brochures and pledge forms, and a supply of Budweiser beer from the Columbus Distributing Co.

The viewing party kit also includes a booklet containing

Mother Says Renee Would Never Hang Herself

(CLEVELAND BUREAU)

The family of Renee Jones, who reportedly hanged herself, suspect foul play in view of the fact that they were told at Cleveland Heights Police Station Renee used portions of her clothing and made a rope with which to hang herself.

Members of the family told a Call and Post reporter that witnesses report when the woman was admitted to the hospital, she was fully dressed. The family feels they were given the "run-around". For a number of hours following the death of Renee, the authorities made it impossible for them to identify the deceased. Police stated that they had made the necessary identification.

The mother of Renee Jones said her daughter's parole officer was oblivious to the fact that her client was dead; and that she was supposed to have appeared in court on the day of her death.

Friends of the deceased woman picketed the police station on last Saturday in protest of the hanging.

Mrs. Jones told the reporter that when she visited her daughter on the Saturday prior to her death, she showed bruises sustained after a beating by the Cleveland Heights police. Renee told her mother she had been kicked, treated and released for the leg wound.

Her daughter was not hurt in the exchange of gun fire other than being very shook-up and shocked over the whole thing.

Both women described the male as black, 20-25, 5 feet 10 inches tall, about 180 pounds, wearing a brown jacket, with dark blue or green pants.

A black or brown hooded sweat shirt, covered his head. He also was wearing either a blue or black ski mask with the eyes cut out. He held a .38-caliber snub

Woman Is Killed In Feud Over Dog Dung

By SHUARA R. WILSON
CLEVELAND BUREAU

A two and one-half month old, mixed Collie and German Shepherd, puppy was the center of the controversy between neighbors which led to the death of his 24-year-old owner, early Tuesday morning. Mae Woods, of 4390 Kennard Ct., died in surgery at St. Vincent Charity Hospital at 1:30 a.m. She had sustained five fatal gunshot wounds in the head, neck, back, and thigh. The weapon was a .32-caliber handgun.

Police charged 30-year-old Jewel Smith with murder. She was released on a $2,500 bond Wednesday morning. Allegedly Smith had complained that the puppy, Rontu, continually littered, with droppings, the porch she shared with Woods.

A witness to the shooting, Woods' 27-year-old boyfriend said that the argument about the dog began Monday at 10:00 p.m. They were yelling four and five letter words at each other. The female (Smith) threatened to whip Mae. He said that shortly after the argument ended he took Rontu out for a walk.

At 11:00, when he returned, he said that Woods was sitting in her living room with the porch door open. According to him, Smith was on the porch telling a male friend of hers about the dog and the argument. "When Mae went to the door and said 'That's not how it went. You're lying.' According to Woods' boyfriend, Ms.

Smith let out a shrill scream then fired two shots which grazed Woods' neck.

He said that he grabbed his 23-month-old daughter, who was standing between the screen door and Woods. He heard more

Rosemond Not Alone Opposing Hospital Closing, Changes

City Councilman John Rosemond is not the only one opposed to a proposal to close St. Ann's Hospital and move Grant Hospital's obstetric and emergency services to a northern suburb.

"It seems to be a self-serving effort. We work there (at Grant Hospital) but we know nothing about it (the proposal) until we read it in the paper," Dr. Ernest Newkirk told the CALL & POST Tuesday.

The proposal, which Rosemond and Newkirk oppose, calls for St. Ann's to close its doors at 1555 Bryden Rd., and a new hospital be built to take over all services offered by St. Ann's along with Grant's obstetric and emergency services.

But, according to Newkirk, if that happens, a number of "patients are going to lose their babies because they cannot negotiate the (10 to 30 mile) distance in emergency situations." In addition, Rosemond

Hilltop Woman Charges Police With Brutality

A 24 year old Hilltop woman has filed a police brutality complaint with the Internal Affairs unit of the Columbus Police Department.

Nedra Galloway, 1995 Flora Ave., filed the charges late Monday after complaining to The CALL & POST of abusive treatment by a Police Detective in her home about 11 a.m. Monday.

According to her complaint, two detectives came to her home and were admitted. They said they wanted to talk with her brother, Mark, who was asleep on the couch in the first floor living room.

While talking with Mark, Ms. Galloway said she went upstairs to get his clothes. However, after learning that his clothing was downstairs, she came back downstairs where the officers were struggling with Mark trying to handcuff him.

When she asked one officer to stop pulling Mark's hair, he jumped off Mark and pushed her back. She threw up her hands and one officer grabbed her by the arm and shoved her against the stereo then struck her beside her head with his flashlight.

With her arm twisted and

Civil Service Post Goes Unfilled After Six Months Vacancy

Although the Municipal Civil Service Commission has been without an Executive Secretary since early January, and filling the vacancy is nowhere in sight, The CALL & POST was informed last week.

The office has been vacant since Dale A. Crawford resigned to assume the Municipal Court Judgeship to which he was elected last November.

Larry Robinson, a staff member for more than 20 years, has been acting executive secretary since the departure of Crawford and apparently is a candidate for appointment to the vacancy.

The three members of the Commission are the appointing authorities. They are Dr. Thelma Schoonover, the chairperson, John C. Young, former City Attorney and Earl Murry, a former President of the Columbus Urban League.

In a brief interview prior to last week's Commission meeting, Dr. Schoonover said several "out-of-town applicants are the hold-up." She said the Commission wants to interview these candidates before making a decision.

The second hold up involves money. Ms. Schoonover said. The money factor places the commission "between the

CALL & POST EXCLUSIVE

Carter To Win In Spite Of Problems, Black Aid Predicts In Interview

(BY JOHN B. COMBS)

In spite of runaway inflation, massive unemployment and the Iranian hostages debacle plaguing the Carter Administration, "he will win the Democratic presidential nomination in August and then be re-elected in November," a black White House staffer predicted here last week.

Louis Martin, Special Assistant to the President, made the optimistic prediction in an exclusive CALL & POST interview while attending the Minority Conference sponsored by the White House the past weekend at the Neil House Hotel.

In regards to the black vote which overwhelmingly went to Carter in the 1976 presidential election, Martin said from the "analysis we have made of the way blacks have been voting all across the country, there is no question in my mind that we will get a majority of the black vote in the general election as well as in the primary."

When asked if he was

Urbancrest Ex-Mayor Stirs Mixed Feelings At Washington Meet

Vaughn E. Hairston, former Urbancrest mayor, prompted some curious eyebrow raising when he showed up at the National Conference of Black Mayors in Washington a couple of weeks ago.

Louis Sharp, who defeated Hairston for the village mayor last November, was also in Washington to attend the conference, found himself on the outside because the badge set aside for Urbancrest had been issued to Hairston. The CALL & POST was informed by a Washington source.

Sharp, however, said he was later admitted and represented the village during the three day affair.

VAUGHN E. HAIRSTON
...Imposter role?

Hairston, in a telephone conversation with a CALL & POST reporter Saturday, said he recognized that his presence caused some "mixed emotions" at the conference, but said he had two reasons for being there. First, he said, he was still a member of the conference because that was the first meeting held since the November election.

Secondly, he said as the former mayor, he is eligible to continue his membership as an associate member.

A Washington Post story quoted Hairston as saying: "For me, the best thing to come out of these conferences is the information and insight on how to get federal monies."

"In 1976, after coming to the conference, I got information to get federal monies for a $1.5 million community center for My City, with an Olympic-sized swimming pool, a game and a senior citizens activity area."

Commenting on the story, Hairston said that he did not mean to imply that he was the mayor, he was in a hurry when the reporter caught him as he was rushing to another workshop session of the conference.

"I was not there as a means of transgressing on the official duties of the mayor," Hairston said.

He said he plans to continue working with the conference, "but in another capacity" and insisted that "my time wasn't up until last week's meeting."

Hairston said the people "should recognize me for what I achieved for Urbancrest as mayor," and take the advantage of the project initiated by him.

"Instead," he said "several important projects started by me have been lost under the new mayor."

While it may not be common, the speedy finger-clickers that you see at the end of shopping at Kroger sometime go on to become managers in the company.

Kathleen Boyd, training coordinator at the food concern, is one such person. Ms. Boyd began 10 years ago as a part-time cashier at the Kelton and Livingston Avenues store, she said.

Now Ms. Boyd is preparing to train persons for jobs as courtesy clerks. The Vocational Retail Training program will train persons to be checkers, stockers and packagers, she said.

The program will cost nothing to participants. It will be for two days each week beginning June 3 and include 12 hours of training Ms. Boyd said. Persons who complete the program will receive a certificate and have skills comparable to those of checkers at other retail stores, she said.

Any person who wants to participate in the program must fill out an application with the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services, 145 S. Front St. The person must be at least 16 years of age.

Ms. Boyd said Kroger does not guarantee anyone a job, but she said their

Rosemond Not Alone Opposing Hospital Closing, Changes

(Continued from Page 1A) says that transportation costs for the longer distance to maternity units will impose an undue burden on those who can least afford them. This will be especially true in situations where babies will have to be transported back to Children's Hospital for specialized care, he added. Another concern of Pigs, "It doesn't make sense to me to close these Rosemond's is that some of the individuals who are normally referred to nearby hospitals by the City's Health Centers will pose a greater problem because many of the people would not have transportation to other hospitals for obstetric care. If the units at St. Ann's and Grant are eliminated, units when there is a trend toward suburbanites moving back into the city," Rosemond said.

There is already a lower number of beds in the central city than is presently needed. And, "you have a lot of young mothers in the central city," he declared. He also pointed out that approval of the proposal will be sought from the Mid-Ohio Health Planning Federation. However, Newkirk told the CALL & POST that he was in attendance at a meeting of OBGYN where the project has already been unanimously opposed. (OBGYN is the Columbus Academy of Obstetrics and Gynecologists.)

Meanwhile, Rosemond is reported to be seeking additional information on the proposal for City Council to possibly present arguments against it to the final decision-making body—the Mid-Ohio Health Planning Federation.

hard place and the rock," she said.

The commission is reluctant to have the out-of-town applicants pay their own transportation to Columbus and then they are not hired, she said. The commission would also find itself in the same awkward position if it bore the transportation expenses, she indicated.

With this dilemma facing the commission, Dr. Schoonover declined to guess when the position will be filled.

To select an executive secretary, a majority vote of the three members will be required.

This could mean that the decision would rest with Murry, since he is newest of the three members. He was appointed about three weeks ago to succeed Walter Tarpley who resigned to accept a position in St. Louis, Mo.

tips on how to plan and organize a viewing party. Prospective viewing party givers are asked to contact Ms. Chavous at home, 252-2724, or other members of the committee.

Viewing party committee members are Dr. Margaret Roberts, Carline Weddington, Julia Peterson, Marguerite Neal, Sonja Brunson, Mabel Watkins, Dr. Rhoda Oley, Roberta Barnett, Doris Osborne and Peggy Burke.

"The Lou Rawls Parade of Stars" will feature Rawls and co-host Ed McMahon and a galaxy of sports and entertainment stars, including Muhammad Ali, Bill Cosby, Lou Brock, Lola Falana, The Mills Brothers, Glen Campbell, Norm Crosby, Willie Tyler and Lester, George Duke, Charley Pride, Joey Travolta, Paul Williams and The Treniers.

The show, videotaped at the Las Vegas Hilton, features music and fun interspersed with the serious message of UNCF's mission to annually provide higher education for 50,000 black students at the 41 traditionally-black member institutions, including Wilberforce University, the only UNCF school located north of the so-called Mason-Dixon line.

Fifteen minutes of each hour of the telethon will originate live from the studios of Channel 6. A bank of telephones will be manned by volunteers, including area celebrities, to receive pledges from local donors.

Susan Schwartz, director of public affairs, at WTVN, expressed the station's pride at being involved in bringing the UNCF telethon to Columbus. "We at Channel 6 are grateful for the opportunity to contribute to the success of the UNCF drive as an expression of our commitment to the improvement of the quality of life for all Americans," Schwartz said.

CLASS REUNION—Adelle and Will Anderson, above, are co-chairmen of the Hospitality Committee of the Columbus Reunion Committee for the 1980 Ohio State University graduating class. Members of the Anderson's committee will greet roundabouts at the Kleebs Kletsch, special class luncheon, hospitality hour and Sunset Supper, scheduled as the activities of the day's program. Some 50 members of the Class of 1955 have been planning the Silver Reunion since January. Mailings have been sent to class members throughout the world.

told police Royster had been a patient of Upham Hall, a psychiatric facility at University Hospital.

His daughter would plead not guilty to the charges and request a continuance, probably for a jury trial, Galloway said.

In the meantime, a spokesman at the police complaint office, assured The CALL & POST that the complaint would be investigated.

Judge G. W. Fais ruled that Royster was insane at the time of the shooting. He ordered Royster be sent to the Franklin County Probate Court for a commitment hearing.

Officials at the Southwest Community Mental Health Center said Royster was suffering from a chronic mental illness.

Royster, who had been indicted on an aggravated murder charge, had been held in the Franklin County Jail under a $100,000 bond.

According to police, Royster shot his wife in an upstairs room of their home, then waited downstairs until their son arrived. He told his son something had happened to his mother. The son found his mother dead of a bullet wound.

Royster accompanied his son to Upham Hall from where young Royster called police. Royster was arrested without incident.

Carter To Win In Spite Of Problems, Black Aid Predicts In Interview

(Continued from Page 1A) assuming the president will be nominated, Martin said there is "no question about that, the President already has 1509 delegates and he doesn't need but 157 more for the nomination."

To win the nomination the candidate must receive 1,866 delegate votes.

Asked if the President can beat Ronald Reagan, the front-running Republican presidential candidate, Martin commented, "I think he can. I think that once the people focus on the programs and policies Reagan is really supportive, they will see that Carter by far has more level and a more fundamentally constructive program for minorities than Reagan."

Martin, a former newspaper executive of the Chicago Defender and a founder of the Michigan Chronicle, conceded that the President has experienced some "bad breaks," but he sees no comparison with the great Depression that contributed to the defeat of President Herbert Hoover in 1932.

He based this conclusion on the contention that "the president's attitude toward society and toward us are completely different. The president inherited a lot of major problems."

"As you know, he has been getting some bad breaks from problems that developed long before he got in office. The oil problem which has been central to most of the other problems because of the oil prices we are now spending from $80 to almost a $100 billion going out of the country and we are literally in hostage to the oil boys in OPEC."

So this has made a set of factors that is terribly important that we are just realizing for the first time that some things are final, oil is giving out. And we have assumed all along that oil would be there forever," he said, adding:

"So, we are up against critical problems that no other administration has had to face. We are coming out of an era where nobody ever dreamed the day would come when we would worry about the existence of reserved oil. This is one illustration of the kinds of problems this administration has had to face."

Martin, pointing out that "inflation is worldwide," "The inflation problems we are suffering are being suffered by all industrial nations, England, Germany, France and Japan," he said.

Consequently, he said "inflation is not an American phenomenon." Carter, in that period when these economic problems are testing the whole industrial world. This is not applicable for American history. I think he is handling it with the kind of leadership, and the kind of programs that are going to give us a freedom from a dependency on foreign oil and other resources," he observed.

Relative to the crisis facing the auto industry, Martin said they have a problem that "the President warned three years ago the auto people that they had to come up with more fuel efficient engines. Now these gas guzzlers are just no longer adequate for the kind of problems we are facing in energy and oil today."

This is the rise of imports from Japan and other places and that what's giving the auto industry headaches and we can't blame governors for that."

The auto manufacturers have the responsibility of guiding their destiny and being alert to developments as Japan and Germany," he suggested.

Of the black Congressional Caucus and the presidential campaign, Martin said it has "not taken a position as such. Individual members are for different candidates."

As an example, he said Rep. Leland of Texas and Rep. Ford of Tenn., are supporting the president, he said.

Rep. Parren Mitchell of Maryland is "very close to the administration, but he has not endorsed anybody," he added.

Turning to Rep. Louis Stokes of Cleveland, Martin said: "Louis Stokes has got his own views about things. We think he's wrong in terms of his choice (Kennedy) for we don't think Kennedy has anything to offer that Carter hasn't done better."

He said Kennedy "even can't get his so-called health bill out of his own sub-committee."

"We are not talking about pie in the sky, we're talking about practical life. I think that we as blacks recognize that we have to support those who can actually do something about our condition and not just talk about it," he asserted.

Criticism of the President by Rep. C.J. McClain of Dayton, "was understood. We don't think Carter is perfect, he can't walk on water. But I must say this, McClain now supports the President."

"You have to compare people, nobody is perfect and comparing Carter with superior," Martin said. With the President now campaigning and coming to Cleveland May 28, he predicted that he "will take Ohio without any problem," he concluded.

Bethany Youth Debut First Musical, Planning Another

The acting bug has bitten the youth at Bethany Presbyterian Church, 206 N. Garfield Ave. Last week, the young people debuted an original musical, "That Great Gettin' Up Mornin'."

A celebration of life, the production told the story of the life, death and Resurrection of Jesus of Nazareth through news interviews with characters who knew him, gospel music and liturgical dance.

Already the young thespians are discussing their second theatrical excursion. They're also planning a special youth day service scheduled for June 8.

Drama is an excellent way to proclaim the Gospel of Jesus Christ, explained Audrey DuPuy, a student at Methodist Theological School who serves as student associate at Bethany.

"It's exciting to see young people get into the story, internalize it and convey the message to others," she said.

Black Babies Need Foster Homes, Says Children's Agency

Babies coming straight from the hospital and toddlers up to two years of age need foster homes. At Franklin County Children Services (FCCS), March statistics show that 65 children needed temporary, substitute homes. Of this number, 32 were under five years of age.

The number of children coming into care doesn't match the number of foster homes already available, said Deborah Foley, Franklin County Children Services staff member.

"Many of the foster homes already existing are licensed for school age children, or are full," Miss Foley said. "Some of the foster homes will be limiting the number of children in the upcoming months because of summer vacation."

we must recruit more homes to meet our future

However, the smell of grease paint and the roar of the crowd are not the only elements that attracted the young people to theatre.

"It's fun," explained 11 year-old Chrissy Brooks who played the reporter. "It gives me something to do on Saturdays."

Bethany's youth called on several members of the community to share in their first production. Sharron Kornegay, WBNS-TV news reporter, played the lead member of the news team investigating the crucifixion of Jesus.

Elizabeth Hairston, noted singer and student at Methodist Theological School, rendered a moving portrayal of the woman who washed Jesus' feet with her tears. Ms. Hairston also sang and performed a liturgical dance to "Were You There."

For several weeks pianist Tonya Scott and singer Karen Jones rehearsed the cast who ranged in age from 11 to 15 years. The show was written and directed by Audrey DuPuy.

Miss Foley said that black youngsters and males need foster homes the most. She said usually on a month-to-month basis, 50 percent or more of children needing foster homes are black.

Foster mothers who wish to care for pre-schoolers cannot work outside the home. Other requirements include persons being 22 to 60 years of age, stable income and enough space for an additional child, she said.

Persons are reimbursed for each child and all medical and dental expenses are paid. To become a foster home for an infant, or toddler, call Doris Brennan at Franklin County Children Services, 275-2543.

For pamphlets and more write FCCS, 1951 Gantz Rd., Grove City, 43123.

Women's Day Set At Second Bapt.

Second Baptist Church, 186 N. 17th St., will celebrate its Women's Day festivities Saturday and Sunday, beginning with a prayer breakfast at 7 a.m. Saturday at the church. Mrs. Noel Carter, wife of the Rev. Jerry Carter of Mt. Period Baptist, will be the speaker.

A pot luck dinner will be furnished for the women of the church at the home of Pastor and Mrs. Leon L. Troy at 7 p.m. Saturday. The dinner will serve to welcome the guest speaker for Women's Day, Dr. Anna H. Grant, head of the Sociology Department at Morehouse College in Atlanta.

The celebration of women will be at 11 a.m. Sunday during regular worship services. The theme is "God is Love" and the colors to be worn are pink, purple and white. Dr. Grant will speak during the service.

ANNA H. GRANT
...at second baptist

Music will be by the Combined Women's Choir under the direction of Cheryl Tucker. Immediately following the services, a reception will be held in the Jenkins Auditorium.

The Women's Day Committee includes Mrs. Lou Rayfield-Davidson, general chairperson; Mrs. Christine Sowell, co-chairperson; Delores Diggs, Mrs. Anne Kinney, Mrs. Lois Blake, Cheryl Tucker, Sharon Kornegay, Mrs. Mary Lester and Mrs. Peggy Tyler.

U.S. Senator John Glenn For Reelection

The Democratic voters will have an opportunity June 3, to renominate U.S. Senator John Glenn.

In his first term as a U.S. Senator John Glenn has ably represented the people and the interest of the State of Ohio. He has been responsive and available. This has earned him the respect of the people as well as his colleagues.

In the coming years, Ohio will be facing grave problems in keeping its industrial posture healthy and growing Statesmanship of the highest order will be required for this. In this role, John Glenn can be invaluable.

The Call & Post endorses John Glenn for nomination for U.S. Senator on the Democratic ticket.

Greg Groves In District 10

This year, the voters in House District 10, have an opportunity to nominate for State Representative a young man of great promise - Greg Groves. He has the qualifications and ability to be an effective legislator in Columbus, and, at the same time, be active in Cleveland's leadership. The people are tired of sending elected officials to Columbus and don't see or hear from them until election time.

Greg Groves deserves the full support of the voters in the 10th District. The Call & Post endorses him for nomination on the Democratic ticket.

Black Dissatisfaction Is Visible In Columbus

With the continuous forming of activist groups and resurgence of older ones in Columbus' black community, it is no surprise that the recent Franklin County Fair Housing Research Study revealed that blacks believe city rights progress has come to a screeching halt.

That blacks from all areas of the community share this belief (that the "powers that be" in our city and county no longer offer support for equal opportunity for all citizens) is a serious concern that shouldn't be taken lightly. The formation of black groups actively pressuring public and private officials seems to be tied to the perception that civil rights progress is nil.

The study found that Columbus' white citizens believe blacks to be satisfied with the gains that were made over the last 15 years. So it probably came as a complete surprise when blacks visibly showed their resentment to their perceived lack of progress.

The demonstrations and rallies against police actions, calls for a boycott of business establishments, a push to recall the mayor, and efforts to strengthen black communities are related to this perceived "no progress."

These actions have been much in evidence of late, leading one city official to conclude they seriously threaten the improved race relations that have occurred over the last two decades.

If that happens, we don't think the black community can share that burden alone. After all, the same leaders who are directly involved in the "Columbus, We're Making It Great" campaign, can at the same time involve themselves in an active effort to revive equal opportunity for all citizens.

The black community occupies such a strategic position in this city that it cannot be ignored or dismissed. When it suffers, all of Columbus suffers. At the same time, when it progresses, all of Columbus progresses.

Political Power and Parties

By BOBBY E. MILLS-PhD.

The basis for politics in American society is the ballot. On the one hand, the ballot is the basis for interest group politics and/or collective action. While, on the other hand, the political party is the basis for POWER. Blacks then have not used either the ballot nor the political party concept creatively.

This, of course, has forced the Black community into being crisis oriented, rather than development oriented. But more important, the inability of the Black community to effectively use the two party-system creates political apathy, cynicism, economic dependency, and above all, social disorganization.

Since the political party is the basis for power politics, Blacks must be actively-creatively involved in both political parties. This also implies that Blacks must become more involved in international affairs, because foreign policy is only an extension of domestic social policy. Restructuring the political process in the Black community will alter the value orientation of American society, i.e., create societal unity.

Since politics in American society is based on interest groups, which one represents the national interest is the question of questions? If America is to survive, the nature of politics must take on a more universal character. Democratic verbiage is liberal, but their actions are reactionary, i.e., non-developmental. The Republicans, for the most part, are like the elephant who ate too much peanut butter and his tongue got stuck in the roof of his mouth. That is, in the past, Republicans have produced a lot of noise but not a visionary map.

After all, the best PRAYER IS A MAP. No more rapping, then, let's start mapping.

Blacks can revitalize the political process in the 80's simply by creatively using the two-party system. The opportunity has come. What shall we do with it? If the Black community is ever to become self-sufficient and productive it must creatively organize and develop itself. SO BE IT.

QUESTION
A few years ago I had to use a sun lamp for a while to treat a skin condition. I have just read that ultraviolet radiation is a cause of skin cancer and I wonder whether I could get it from my treatments.

ANSWER
I do not believe you have to worry. Although it is true that sun lamps produce ultraviolet radiation and that ultraviolet rays are a cause of skin cancer, the skin has to be exposed for a long time (i.e. many years) before this happens. The people who run the most risk are those who work out of doors with their exposed skin receiving rays from the sun. Others at risk are those people who still have the mistaken idea that a well tanned skin indicates inner health and who deliberately turn themselves brown every summer. For obvious reasons the frequency of skin cancer is greater in the southern part of the USA. "Ban the tan and hale the pale" should

A New Voice

One of the bright new minds to come on the scene, is that of Walter E. Williams, currently associate Professor of Economics at Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa.

With challenging views on many of today's social and economic problems, Dr. Williams provides new thinking and approaches to basic problems affecting Negroes.

In one of his published articles, Dr. Williams asked the question: "Who bears the burden of the minimum wage?" His views on this subject are very provocative. Dr. Williams says the first group consists of youth. The second group -- are racial minorities such as Negroes and Hispanics, who as a result of racial discrimination and a number of other socioeconomic factors, are disproportionately represented among low-skilled workers. About this Dr. Williams says: "These workers are not only made unemployable by the minimum wage, but their opportunities to upgrade their skills through on-the-job training are also severely limited."

Another point made by Dr. Williams is that: "unemployment for some population groups is directly related to statutory wage minimum and that the unemployment effects of the minimum wage law are felt."

Dr. Williams presents statistics which show that in 1948, Black youth unemployment was roughly the same as White youth unemployment. He then points out that "by 1976, both the labor force participation rate and the employment rate of Black youths fell to what it is today."

Dr. Williams' explanation for this increase in unemployment is: Faced with these facts, one naturally asks, why labor market opportunities have deteriorated so precipitously for Black youth. -- "The answer," says Dr. Williams, "lies elsewhere, as has already been suggested; it lies in the effect of the minimum wage."

"The proposed effort to raise the minimum wage," says Dr. Williams, "will have serious unemployment consequences for youth. He says: 'If (Congress) wishes to bring more youths into the labor market, Congress should permit firms to hire youth at rates considerably less than the adult rate.' He says: 'Organized Labor is not willing to permit even this partial concession to economic reality.'"

The result of high minimum wage says Dr. Williams is that: Taxpayers are going to be called upon to tax themselves to support massive federal make-work projects to employ the nation's youth.

As to the assertion of some labor people that The Minimum Wage law is an anti-poverty weapon, Dr. Williams says: "If this were true, we would have an instant solution to the world's poverty and underdeveloped problems."

In a recent column in the Richmond, Va., Times-Dispatch, Dr. Williams enunciated his views on the operation of the Federal Government Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HUD).

Dr. Williams says, if given his choice, he would eliminate most of the consulting and research contracts that go to support an army of elite professionals at universities, research institutions and certain special organizations -- all of whom are on the dole. Much of this research analyzes the many facets of poverty and dependence." Dr. Williams, asked this question: "But why spend the money?" He then points out that: "There is really little mystery about poverty; people are poor because they have little money. The reason they have little money is either that they don't have anything to sell that society highly values or they do have something to sell but are not permitted to sell it. We don't have to spend billions of taxpayers dollars to find this out."

Coming down hard on the "dogooders," Dr. Williams says: "Considerable evidence suggests that the dogooders are not doing as much good as they should." He points out that, "At the federal, state and local levels of government, we spend $200 billion each year for programs justified on the basis of fighting poverty." He says this averages out for each eligible family of four at $40,000.

Dr. Williams' solution would be to "strike a deal with America's poor. I would give each eligible family $20,000 a year in cash and I would refund the rest of the money to America's beleaguered taxpayers. This would make the poor better off, and the taxpayers better off. The only ones who would be worse off (you guessed it) would be the bureaucrats and consultants and other people professing concern for the poor."

Dr. Walter F. Williams grew up in the ghettos of Philadelphia. He received his education at California State and the University of California. He has served as a National Fellow at the Hoover Institute at Stanford, and on the research staff of the Urban Institute in Washington, D.C.

I certainly admire his boldness in discussing remedies for Black youth unemployment and program for the poor.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

By JOHN B. COMBS, Columbus Bureau

A Challenge To Beatty

The Ohio General Assembly now has a black attorney on its roster. Otto Beatty Jr., a 40 year old Columbus attorney brought this distinction to the Assembly when he was sworn in in the House of Representatives a couple of weeks ago.

Beatty, who has established a noteworthy reputation as a trial lawyer, was appointed to the seat of Rep. Phale D. Hale of Columbus. Hale, a 14 year veteran of the Ohio House, resigned to assume a position with the National Democratic Committee in Washington, D.C. Having been first elected to the House in 1966, Hale was the dean of the Franklin County Democratic delegation in the House.

Following the colorful swearing in ceremonies, Beatty was appointed by House Speaker Vern Riffe Jr., New Boston, to the influential House Judiciary Committee.

It is significant to note, that to make room for the appointment, Rep. William Mallory, D-Cincinnati, House Majority leader, gave up his seat on the prestigious Judiciary Committee to make room for Beatty. Mallory, incidentally, is not a lawyer, he is a school teacher with a Central State University background.

The 21-member Judiciary Committee is made up primarily of lawyers. Years ago, however, all members of this committee were lawyers. But in later years when members of the legal profession began reaping a rich harvest from their practice, only a handful found the Legislature enticing. There are 99 House members.

During the current session, there were 21 lawyers in the House before Beatty's appointment. Of the 33 Senators, only nine list their occupation as attorney-at-law.

Prior to Beatty's appointment, the last black lawyer was Calvin C. Johnson of Cincinnati. He was elected from the ninth district in 1966. Unfortunately, he became involved in a legal matter with the courts that raised serious question about his character and integrity. As a result he resigned from the Senate and surrendered his legal credentials to the Ohio Bar Association and the Ohio Supreme Court.

Johnson, who is said to be presently a successful accountant in Atlanta, Ga., served on the Senate Judiciary and Education, Health and Welfare Committees during his abbreviated, stay in the Ohio Senate. He was a Democrat, as are the two black Senators and 10 black House members.

This is not pointed out as an indication that Beatty is likely to allow himself to become involved in illegal activities. But rather as a means of reminding him of what led to the legislative downfall of the last black lawyer to sit in the Ohio Legislature.

However, this is not to discount that Carl B. Stokes, former Cleveland Mayor, was serving in the House at the same time Johnson was in the Senate. Stokes, now an NBC newscaster in New York resigned his House seat to become the nation's first black mayor of a metropolitan city.

Stokes, incidentally, became the first black Democrat to win a seat in the Ohio Legislature when he was elected from Cuyahoga County in 1962. Prior to his outstanding achievement, only black Republicans had the distinction of winning seats in the Ohio Senate and House.

Many of the black Republicans were also attorneys. Among them were Perry B. Jackson, retired Common Pleas judge of Cleveland. Also the late Harry E. Davis, William B. Saunders and Chester Gillespie, all of Cleveland; the late A. Bruce McClure, Cincinnati, and John W. E. Bowen, presently practicing law in Columbus.

So in addition to following in the dubious footsteps of Johnson, Beatty is also traveling a road on which many distinguished black barbers left their shining marks. This is the challenge he faces.

BALANCED BUDGET HAS HIGH COST

The corridors of the Capitol are filled with the sound of the budget debate.

Some of balancing the budget. But this symbolic exercise of bringing federal revenues and expenses into balance bears a tremendous cost for America's poor people.

That cost is made even more unbearable by the knowledge that a balanced budget will not do what its supporters claim -- slow the inflation rate.

Even President Carter, who submitted a revised budget, admitted at a news conference:

"It is true that by itself, in direct effect, a $15 billion reduction in federal expenditures, compared to a more than $2 trillion economy, would involve less than half of one percent (cut in the inflation rate)."

The cuts are justified by the supposed "confidence" they would instill in people that the government is serious about controlling inflation. But no one suggests the obvious -- that "confidence" can be achieved through means other than brutalizing the poor, and that substance, not symbolism, is the way to deal with inflation.

Even if a balanced budget is necessary -- and there are no convincing arguments that it is -- there are other ways to go about it. Taxes could be increased to balance expenditures.

QUESTION

I had a cancer of the breast removed successfully three years ago. I have been well ever since, but for the past month or so I have had a pain in my lower back. I know that backaches are a common problem, but I also worry about whether my cancer could return and cause pain there. Should it be x-rayed?

ANSWER

It certainly should, as many cancers, including those starting in the breast, lung, colon, and prostate, spread to the spinal column and pain would be the first symptom. Although most backaches are from muscle or ligament strain, you should have an evaluation by your physician at once.

done so much to make public service jobs available to more of the jobless, proposed cutting CETA job slots. But the Senate Budget Committee wants to end the anti-recession jobs program entirely.

Just as the nation enters what many economists believe will be a severe recession, those Congressmen want to kill the only program that provides federal job support for recession's victims.

Other proposed budget cuts target education, health, urban aid, and mass transit.

scrapped at a time when the purchasing power of already inadequate benefits has been cut through escalating prices for basics like food, energy, rent, and health costs.

The fundamental cornerstones of national anti-inflation program must be: first, an effective attack on price rises in the basic expenses that take up the bulk of most family budgets, and, two, an equitable sharing of the burdens involved.

No such anti-inflation plan exists today. Instead, we are offered the purely cosmetic and ineffective device of cutting an already austere budget, and concentration of the negative effect of such cuts on the poorest and most vulnerable among us.

The kicker is that these futile gestures will just nudge the economy deeper into a recession. The resultant falloff in federal tax receipts and higher unemployment and welfare costs will unbalance the budget and produce a large deficit. And some cities and businesses will be forced into bankruptcy or extreme hardship. The disproportionate burden placed on the poor -- and the many near-poor who will be forced into poverty will increase social strains.

What a miserable formula has been chosen for the future!

Southside Man Honored By Black Firefighters For Heroic Rescue Act

A 26 year old Southside man who disregarded his own safety and rescued a neighbor trapped in his second-floor bedroom as a flaming fire swept through the duplex structure, was honored last week by the Columbus Chapter of International Association of Black Professional Firefighters.

Gordon L. Harris, 1346 E. Kossuth St., was presented the Award of Merit last Wednesday in a 3 p.m. ceremony at 124 S. Washington Ave., in recognition of his heroic rescue of Ernest "Bud" Wall Sr., 1340 E. Kossuth St., on Feb. 14.

In citing Harris, the group noted that "without regard for his own safety, he entered the burning building on the first floor, but was driven back by the intense heat and smoke. Harris then ran to his garage returning with a ladder.

He climbed to the second story window and pulled the 59 year old Wall through the window. After carrying Wall down the ladder, the entire second floor collapsed."

The Maltese Falcons, the Columbus Chapter of Firefighters, was organized in 1974, having as its goals and objectives to provide civic and community projects and programs designed to render service to the people of the community and to improve their welfare as a whole, a spokesman for the group said.

Of Harris, he said, the group was delighted to honor him for his "daring rescue, heroic and humanitarian action."

32 Blacks Racing For Ward Leader's Post On Primary Election Day

By JOHN B. COMBS

With the June 3 primary election just three weeks away, the official duties of ward committee persons will become more apparent in their respective districts in various communities.

Of the city's 62 wards, there are 79 Democratic ward committee candidates and 64 Republicans. There are 22 blacks on the Democratic ward slate, while 10 blacks are among the Republican ward leader candidates.

While ward leaders, commonly referred to as "ward-healers," are non-salaried positions, nonetheless, they are of vital importance to the respective political parties.

Terry Casey, Executive Director of the Franklin County Republican Organization, said ward committee persons "are definitely important."

While the title of ward committeemen has been perhaps, given a more impressive ring as "County Central Committee members," their responsibilities remain the same.

The new title, as explained by Casey, "is appropriate because it eliminates the necessity of making a distinction between their sex."

For the most part, the responsibilities of committee members fall in four major categories, Casey noted. These include, supervising distribution of campaign literature in their wards, arranging political meetings for candidates and assisting them, recommending booth workers and selecting persons to fill vacancies should the office holder resign or the office become vacant for any other reason.

Unlike other political candidates, committee members are elected for two year terms at the primaries, while other candidates who are nominated at the primaries, must run again in November if they have opposition.

Black candidates on the Republican tickets are:

Fifth Ward: Loretta E. Clark, 1918 Gault St.

Sixth Ward: Julie Grady Heard, 2223 Barrymore Ave.

Seventh: Shepard N. Edwards, 169 Hamilton Ave.

13th: Ruth L. Casby, 800 E. Second Ave.

17th: William D. Keels, 1081 E. 19th Ave.

25th: Kenneth L. Miller, 2283 Homestead Dr.

50th: Martha P. Justice, 1195 Watkins Rd.

55th: Lois M. Hickey, 1153 Fair Ave. She is opposed by Julius Marshall, 123 S. Champion Ave.

Unlike Republicans, black Democrats will face opposition in six wards. They are:

Fourth: Richard B. Davis, 464 S. 22nd St. His challenger is Celestine Sills, 892 E. Livingston Ave.

Fifth: Wanda Katie O'Brien, 1763 Bide-a-Wee Ave.

Sixth: Billie M. Brown, 1955 Merryhill Dr.

Seventh: Albert M. H. Kins, 1100 E. Broad St.

10th: Samuel Wimbly Jr., 138 Clarendon Ave.

12th: Berta Lambert, 228 E. Eighth Ave. Opposing him is Douglas White, 231 E. Eighth Ave.

13th: Mildred H. Ford, 831 E. Fourth Ave. Her opponent is Wallace McDougald Jr., 765 E. Second Ave.

17th: Willa M. Lumpkin, 1330 E. 20th Ave.

25th: Mary L. Gilbert, 2440 Vendome Dr.

31st: Roy J. Pollard Jr., 417 S. Wheatland Ave. He is challenging veteran ward leader, George R. Saunders, 153 Clarendon Ave.

The action was filed by former Municipal Court Judge William Boyland on behalf of Basil Abdullah, 1489 Burstock Rd.

Abdullah charged in the April 23 affidavit that he was hired by ARA Dec. 26, 1979 and discharged as Unit Manager April 23, 1980 by "Les Flamer, black, non-Muslim Regional Operation Manager. He told me I was being discharged for insubordination."

Abdullah told the Commission that "I believe I was discharged due to consideration of my race, black, and my religion, Islam."

He further said that Roosevelt Cole, black, non-Muslim was insubordinate the same day he was told to supervise work, but left town instead," Abdullah stated.

In addition, he alleged in the affidavit that George Brushingham, "white, non-Muslim, and General Manager, called me by names which were racially and religiously discriminatory. When I filed a written grievance with my superior regarding this conduct, I was terminated from employment because I was willing to openly complain about the treatment I had received because of my race and religion," Abdullah charged.

On the other hand, he said Cole has been called the same racially discriminatory names used against me. "He has not been terminated because he was willing to accept this abuse in hope 'it would stop' without complaining to his supervisor," Abdullah states in his affidavit.

Two sworn affidavits signed by two other employees substantiating Abdullah's charges and citing their personal experience with the racial conduct of Brushingham. Boyland, in a May 5th let-

Hundreds Of Blacks Hear How To Acquire Federal Dollars

By JIM ROBINSON

Hundreds of black business and professional persons attended a conference and seminar on "Federal Programs and Initiatives Affecting Ohio's Black Population" held in Columbus last weekend.

The conference was organized by City Councilman Jerry Hammond, White House staff aide Ray Miller, and council aide Ako Kambon. Ray Miller, a Columbusite, was appointed late last year to the staff of Louis Martin, special assistant to President Jimmy Carter. Martin played a major role in the day-long events.

The event began Friday night with a reception attended by nearly 600 blacks from all over the State of Ohio. Over 400 attended the Saturday sessions, including a special luncheon.

Keynote speaker for the luncheon was one of the highest ranking blacks in the Carter administration, James A. Joseph, Under Secretary of the Department of Interior.

"Black Americans have a right to know not only the size of the black presence in the Federal Government, but whether that presence has made a difference," Joseph told attendees in an articulate and fiery delivery reminiscent of great black orators of the past.

Joseph said the Interior Department has been virtually ignored by blacks in the past.

"In my confirmation hearing before the U.S. Senate, a liberal Senator asked me why I was interested in the Department of Interior rather than one of the social welfare agencies. But the Interior Department would... lease (Federal lands) with 200 billion tons of coal... (including) a set-aside program for small and disadvantaged businesses," Joseph told the audience.

Joseph went on to outline other areas of Interior Department control, including energy exploration, Federal parks administration, contracting with colleges, designation of historic landmarks, and others involving multi-billion dollars.

"We cannot allow either the political right to dictate our choice of enemies or the ideological left to dictate our choice of friends," he said. Joseph called for a black focus in the '80s that yields "a significant piece of the economic pie."

Conspicuous among conference attendees were business and professional-black women. Among Washington dignitaries participating in the conference were Sterling Tucker, Assistant Secretary for Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity (HUD); Weldon Rougeau, Director, Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs (DOL); Daniel Henson, Director, Minority Business Development (DOC); Ernest Green, Assistant Secretary for Employment and Training (DOL); Karen Hastie Williams, Administrator, Office of Federal Procurement Policy (OMB); and Curtis McClinton of Small Business Administration.

Afternoon sessions included six workshops by representatives of the various departments involved.

'Election Fraud' Charge Against Lynch Dismissed

A charge that CALL & POST Gen. Mgr. Amos H. Lynch, Sr., failed to file a financial statement of an independent campaign committee, appears to have backfired on John E. Jones, Franklin County Democratic boss when the Ohio Election Commission dismissed the charge last week.

Jones, who is also a member of the Franklin County Board of Elections, charged that Lynch, as chairman of the Independent for Hammond, Wood and Holland during the 1979 general election campaign, should have filed a report with the election commission.

The Commission by a unanimous vote, ruled that there was "no willful intent to defraud," and dismissed the charge without further comment.

Atty. John W.E. Bowen, who represented Lynch before the Commission hearing, said he was "extremely pleased by the unanimous decision of the Commission."

Lynch commended the ruling, however, he suggested that the Ohio Election Commission could have been spared a lot of unnecessary work at taxpayers expense by a simple phone call from Jones. "We had nothing to hide," Lynch said.

But instead of advising Lynch of the innocent mistake, he and his Democrat support on the Board of

with the Commission and demanded that it be given a full hearing.

"I view the action of Jones and his supporters in this effort to discredit independent thinking among black voters as just another of his attempts to reinforce his plantation type bossism of blacks in Democratic party organizations. We won't be intimidated," Lynch added.

"Thanks to this experience," Lynch continued, "we've been exposed to most of the rules, and we will deal with them accordingly in an expanded effort to broaden black involvement in the Franklin County political experience this year and in years to come. We've worked with four different Democratic county chairmen who preceded Jones, he concluded, "and expect to be around when his successor arrives on the scene."

CONTESTANT - Faynelle Ellison, an 18 year old 1979 graduate of Millfin High School, will represent Franklin Lodge and Capital City Temple, IBPOE of W. in the Beauty and Talent contest during the annual State Association of Elks Convention in June at the Neil House Hotel. Miss Ellison, 2626 Glenbar Ct., will take to the contest a measurement of 33-25-26. ## NAACP Endorses COTA Levy

The Columbus Branch of the NAACP recently voted, at a special board meeting, to endorse the COTA Levy that will be placed on the June 3rd ballot.

The Board did not endorse this levy without reservations and did call for action on several procedures. The NAACP continues to be concerned with the number of blacks employed by COTA and stresses a percentage improvement in this area.

In announcing support for the one-half percent county-wide sales tax, eliminating the .5 mill property tax, Tom Fulove, president of the organization, stressed the importance of public transportation to the black community.

Also it was pointed out by the Board that COTA continue its public forums that enable the general public to participate in each process affecting the general community.

The Columbus Branch will also formulate a committee to monitor the process of improvement of services to the black community and insure complete and sustaining service.

Real Estate
By SAM LIGON, REALTOR/REALTIST

REAL ESTATE VS STOCK MARKET

QUESTION: How does the average investment in real estate compare with an investment in the stock market?

ANSWER: When we compare the results over the past decade between stock market profits and real estate appreciation of 45 percent while home prices continued to increase faster than the cost of living to $46,000 - up 150 percent since 1960.

No matter how you slice the cake, an investment in real estate over the past decade had proven to more than pay for itself.

increase: And the trend is widening in favor of real estate.

If you have questions in any area of real estate, feel free to phone or stop in at SAM LIGON REALTY, 27 HOFFMAN AVE., COLUMBUS, OHIO 43205. (614) 252-1313. We're here to help! Mr. Ligon is a graduate of Franklin University with a Real Estate major, and presently teaches Real Estate at Columbus Technical Institute.

dramatic difference in dollars: In the decade from January 1960 to January 1970, the Dow Jones Industrial average jumped from 688 to 800 - an increase of 16 percent in ten years. During the same ten-year period, the average home price increased from $18,307 to $27,022 - an appreciation of 48 percent or triple the Dow.

By January 1977, the Dow Jones average jumped to the 1,000 level for a 16-year increase.

GOOD MORNING JUDGE

Although to the Municipal Court criminal division judge Thursday and Friday dockets will take up routine cases, the court sheet on both days will be loaded with both felony and misdemeanor cases. Two defendants, Roosevelt Harris, 58, of 924 E. 18th Ave., and 31 year old Louis Cathcart, 1416 E. 19th Ave., are scheduled for 1:30 p.m. hearings Thursday on charges of receiving stolen property. They are two of four suspects arrested in connection with taking a United Parcel Service truck after the driver parked it behind the Worthington Square Shopping Center two weeks ago.

A 1:30 p.m. hearing has also been set in the concealed weapon case of 37 year old John H. Richardson, 259 Miami Ave., Apt. 6. He was arrested April 4 at Mt. Vernon Ave., and 20th St., when police allegedly found a concealed weapon on his person. According to the affidavit, Richardson had a loaded .22 caliber Derringer with "Pearl Type Grips" concealed on his person. The suspect is free under a $1,000 court appearance (APB) bond.

At a 10:30 a.m. hearing, Wilma Lee Elmore, 26 of 3157 Heathrow Ct., Apt. A is slated to answer an abduction charge. He is accused of knowingly and without privilege to do so, removing Priscella Knaff from 1105 Vesta Pl., on April 27. The hearing was continued from last week until Thursday at the request of Elmore's attorney, Lee Ross, the affidavit noted. Elmore posted $250 in cash to cover the $2500 surety bond.

Rufus Peppers, 30, of the same address is also charged in connection with the alleged abduction. Peppers and Elmore were arrested by Sgt. Walter Colflesh of the Police Assault Squad. A $250 in cash was also posted to cover his $2500 surety bond. The pair allegedly removed Ms. Knaff from the Vesta Pl. resident without her consent.

For allegedly possessing a loaded revolver, Jerome Lanier, 29, 1413 N. Sixth St., is docketed to answer a charge of carrying a concealed weapon Thursday. Police said Lanier had a .32 caliber Smith and Wesson two inch barrel Special concealed on his person when arrested April 26 at 1393 N. Sixth St. He was released on a $50 APB bond and Atty. Daniel Mann had the hearing set for 10:30 a.m. Friday.

A concealed weapon charge is also scheduled to be faced by 21 year old Kathy Jo Gray, 1088 Franklin Dr. E. She is accused of having a seven inch kitchen knife concealed on her person when arrested May 1 on Main St., at Loffner Ave. Police charged that Gray carried the knife "with the purpose of doing bodily harm to another." She was also hit with a disorderly conduct charge. She posted $50 in cash on the $500 APB on the weapon count and $25 on the DOC offense.

A 21 year old man accused of conveying marijuana into the grounds of a correctional institution is slated to offer his defense Friday in Municipal Court. Gary B. Harris, 1456 Wayland Dr., was cited April 11 after he allegedly took the grass to the Columbus Prison Facility (the old state penitentiary on Spring St.), in violation of a state law. A summons for this appearance for trial was issued by the court after his alleged visit to the prison.

A 1:30 p.m. Thursday hearing was also set in the grand theft charge an Eastside couple busted last week as they attempt to make their get-away after pulling a theft job at the Eastland Shopping Center, police reported. Pauletta R. Johnson, 20 of 190 N. 18th St., and Bradford Brazell, 24, of 280 N. 21st St., were allegedly caught on College Ave. and Pretzner Rd. Thursday after shoplifting at Chess King, 2706 Eastland Mall.

They allegedly deprived Chess King of nine pairs of men's Blue Jeans valued at $214 without the consent of Katherine McClure, the authorized person. Johnson was released on a $5,000 recog APB, while bond on Brazell was $2500 of the surety variety.

A hearing on a grand theft charge is also to be faced Thursday by Roger Taylor, whose last known address was 1186 Windsor Ave. He is accused of taking a television set valued over $150 from the home of Kim D. Black, 2854 Joyce Ave. He also allegedly made off with clothing, cash and food stamps from the apartment. Taylor must also answer an aggravated burglary charge stemming from the same incident. He was nailed by Det. George Slate Jr., as he allegedly loitered on Mt. Vernon Ave. and 20th St. A $5,000 surety bond was set pending the 11 a.m. hearing.

A 50 year old Southside woman allegedly caught shoplifting vitamin pills at Ontario's, 1600 Alum Creek Dr., is docketed to answer a petty theft count Thursday. Virginia Washington, 836 Seymour Ave., is charged with swiping five bottles of vitamins and one stick of deodorizer. She crammed the items into her purse and after paying for other items, broke for the exit without paying for the items in her purse, the security officer reported. The vitamins were valued at $6.90 per bottle, as $1.99 price tag hung on the deodorizer, the officer stated in the affidavit. A $50 cash bond was posted on the $500 APB.

An Eastside man whose age was listed as 80 when booked on a disorderly conduct charge, is scheduled to pay a $25 fine imposed upon him by the court last week. Carroll Flint, 1085 Mt. Vernon Ave., according to the affidavit, was "voluntarily intoxicated and engaged in a conduct which presented risk of physical harm to himself and to others." He was allegedly "stopping people and preventing their movement" on E. Broad and Fourth Sts., May 7th.

Two young women, 17 and 18, are also slated to face experiences. Sandy D. Glover, 1387 Isabel Ave. and Well-latte F. Collins, 1040 McClelland Ave., both 18, were nabbed at Lazarus North, 1649 Morse Rd., May 3.

The two youths, the affidavit reports, "knowingly exerted control of one female blazer, a pair of slacks and a blouse beyond the implied consent of the owner (Lazarus). The articles were valued at $168. A $500 bond was set in the case of Sandy, with a $1,000 surety bond ordered in Collins. Their hearing is docketed for 10:30 a.m.

IBM
Lauch Henry helped find the missing ingredients to education minority engineers. Money.
Lauch Henry is a teacher. And a scientist. And an engineer. He is generally concerned about other people and he has expressed some of that concern in his participation with the National Fund for Minority Engineering Students.
The fund is a non-profit organization attempting to increase the number of Blacks, Puerto Ricans, Chicanos, Mexican-Americans and American Indians enrolled in engineering schools. These under-represented minorities constitute a rich untapped resource to help fill the growing need for engineers. A need that is expected to continue through the mid-1980's.
IBM's social service program enabled Dr. Henry to take a sabbatical leave to assist the fund. And IBM continued to pay him his full salary.
The National Fund for Minority Engineering Students is a very worthwhile program. We think so. Lauch Henry thinks so. But most important of all, lots of minority engineering students enrolled at colleges and universities all over the country think so.
